

Mix Piquant, Captivating Marguerite Clark in a batter of love, suspense, thrills and pathos and you have the ingredients for--

"COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN" FEATURING MARGUERITE CLARK

- Keep your eye on the pan, "Claudia!" You can't watch the young man and expect your biscuits to be feathery, too! But maybe the young man doesn't mind "sinkers" from the fair fingers of Marguerite Clark.
- Her hands were touched with a little bit of stove polish. Perhaps the odor of apple pie hung about her dainty furbelows.
- Anyway she was loved by the prince of men! And he was loaded up with money.
- Good? This play was so good that it ran for two record-breaking seasons in one of New York's largest theatres. You can just smack your lips and imagine how good it will be with dainty Marguerite Clark.
